The annual District Conference of the Lexington District of the M. E. Church, South, met at Irvine last week. Owingsville was chosen as the place of meeting next year.

FOLEY-THOMAS.—Richard Thomas, son of Mark Thomas, and Miss Mary Foley, daughter of John Foley, all of Flat Creek, eloped to Mayville Sunday night and were married.

TOBACCO TRANSPLANTING OVER.—Tobacco transplanting is practically over. There was no lack of season, but plants were too scarce for all the growers to get out their full projected crop. The weather has been highly favorable for a good stand of plants.

HORSEMAN-LATHRAM.—Mr. Emmet Horseman and Miss Iva Lathram were married Sunday afternoon at the home of Elder B. H. Ross, Elder Robert Campbell officiating. The contracting parties are very youthful, but there was no objection on the part of their parents. The bride is a pretty young lady, the daughter of John T. Lathram, of Naylor's Branch. She is a good and worthy girl. The bridegroom is a son of James Horseman, Jr., of Washington Branch. He bears the reputation of a steady, reliable and deserving young man. They have Tux. Outlook's best wishes.

JON FRANKLIN.—Remember that Tux. Outlook is prepared to print letter-heads, note-heads, bill-heads, statements, envelopes, cards, labels, receipts, invitations and all sorts of business stationery on the best stock in tasteful style at the most reasonable prices. Compare our work with that turned out by any job office and you will find it to your advantage to have us do your work.

We also print posters, doggers, pamphlets, and everything usually turned out by a country job office. We have on hand for sale in any quantity blank deeds, mortgages, oil leases and other blanks.

Miss Carolyn Richardson, brother Fred, of Robertson, S. C.; Miss Johnnie Terrill, of Richmond, and J. Hopkins, of Bourbon county, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Hopkins.

WINGED GO-DEVIL.—The go-devil, otherwise known as helgramite and dobsen, is not a rare insect under rocks along the creeks in its larval form, but the mature winged specimen is seldom seen, owing to its nocturnal habits. E. W. Helle captured one last week and brought it to this office, where it attracted considerable attention. It is a rather formidable looking bug with its double wings and sharp pinchers. The larval form is said to make good bass bait.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—The following officers were nominated and elected Saturday night in Acker Lodge, No. 148, A. O. U. W., for the ensuing six months and will be installed next Saturday night: Samuel M. Jackson, Past Master; Workman, John A. Clark; Master Workman, Cecil Karriek Foreman; James J. Moore, Overseer; Joseph D. Sheehan, Recorder; James L. Sheehan, Receiver; John E. Sheehan, Financier; Robert Nixon, Guide; A. S. Ulery, Inside Watchman; J. L. Hess, Outside Watchman; Samuel M. Jackson, Treasurer; Samuel Donahoe, Trustee.

Mrs. MARY SHROUT'S DEATH.—Mrs. Mary Shroat died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Samuel C. Gill, Monday morning at 7 o'clock, after an illness of several weeks in fact, she had been in declining health for several years. Funeral services took place from the Christian Church Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Shroat was born in Jefferson county, Ky., March 30, 1837. She was married Sept. 8, 1863, to Charles H. Leighton. To this union two children were born: Mrs. S. C. Gill, and one son who died when 22 months old. She was married the second time to Wm. J. Shroat, of Owingsville, Ky., which marriage took place Dec. 24, 1874. In early life the deceased united with the M. E. church and came into the Christian church with her last husband in September, 1879. She was a charter member of the Perry Christian church. —Perry (Mo.) Enterprise.

THE JUNE HOP.—The annual hop of the Owingsville Dancing Club was given at Frattman's Hall on the night of Thursday, June 22.

The floor of the hall was covered with canvas and waxed, making a superior dancing platform. An arch light was installed in each end of the room. Saxton's Orchestra of nine performers, of Lexington, made the usual high class music. The orchestra occupied the former theatrical stage.

Admission was limited to holders of tickets issued in their own names, consequently the attendance of spectators was smaller than at previous hops. The spectators were assigned to the one section of the room provided for them. This course was rendered necessary by the experience of former occasions, when the seats provided for the dancers were completely filled by the lookers-on, while the fatigued dancers had to remain on their feet.

The orchestra began for the first time the lancers about 10:30. It was quickly remarked that never before were so many people from out of the county on the ball-room floor as dancers. It is pronounced one of the most animated and gay scenes ever witnessed here.

Number succeeded number on the programme, and everything went off with the utmost joyousness. In termination for luncheon was taken about 1 o'clock. Mrs. Bradbury at her boarding-house served an elegant luncheon of most appetizing viands to about sixty couples. A few of the young ladies entertained their guests at their own homes.

Dancing was resumed about 2 o'clock and continued until after daylight—about 4:30.

Everybody participating, either as dancer or spectator, expresses the positive judgment that it was an occasion unexceptionable in point of behavior and observance of all the proprieties. Not a note of adverse criticism has been heard. And all enjoyed themselves to the limit from the beginning to the end.

The Owingsville Dancing Club has covered itself with glory and the only pessimistic expression heard from any of the members is that as the hall will soon be occupied as a telephone exchange and the Circuit Court room can no longer be secured (or if so the railing around the bar out of the room) there will be no chance soon again to rival the June hop of 1905.

Saxton particularly favored the Club by rendering a double programme as a token of his personal liking for the town and the Club members.

It is remarked by an observer that no particular young lady was distinguished above the others as "the belle of the ball," but each had her programme filled and danced to her heart's content with the flattering attentions and gallantries of many dashing partners.

The costumes of the ladies were as stylish and beautiful as could be seen anywhere on a like occasion.

The dancers were as follows:—

NEARLY DROWNED.—George A. Peed's little son William, aged 2 1/2 years, on last Thursday about 2:30 p. m. fell into a pool of water about three feet deep in the yard of the residence. He was alone at the time. His brother Robert happened to pass by the pool and saw the child's feet sticking out. He waded in and pulled the child out. He was unconscious, but was restored by the efforts of Mrs. Peed and recovered, falling into a deep sleep, from which he awoke later not much the worse from his narrow escape from drowning.

JAMES T. ATCHISON'S DEATH.—On Monday afternoon about 2 o'clock James Thomas Atchison, who had been helping in wheat harvest at his home, on lower Slate Creek, went under a shed near by to rest. He remarked to some one with him that he wished he had his paper to read, and almost immediately expired. Heart trouble was the probable cause of his death. He was rather corpulent and affected with a shortness of breath on slight exertion. The news of his decease was very startling to the community and to his many relatives, friends and acquaintances throughout the county, as he was an extensive farmer and man of affairs, prominent and influential as a citizen.

The funeral was held at the residence Tuesday afternoon, the burial taking place about 4 o'clock at the Atchison graveyard, near by, by Bath Lodge No. 55, F. & A. M., of which deceased was a member.

James Thomas Atchison was a son of William Atchison (commonly called "Old Will") to distinguish him from numerous others of the same name. He was born about 60 years ago and was reared and lived all his life in the same neighborhood, being partly educated at Bath Seminary here. He followed the avocation of farmer all his life, also serving as Deputy Sheriff two terms under T. W. D. Crouch. He was married twice, his first wife being Miss Mary Collins, daughter of Milton P. Collins. Two children of that union survive: Miss Jessie and Charles. His second wife survives. She was Miss Bettie Huff, daughter of Wm. T. Huff, of Sherburne. Norman and Miss May are surviving children of the second marriage. All of the children are unmarried and live at the family home.

Deceased has two brothers living: Johnson M., of near Wyoming, and William, of Owingsville. James T. Atchison was a man of high character, a leader in his community in social, church and business affairs, and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of his whole acquaintanceship. A generous neighbor, a constant friend and a useful man, he will be much missed and long lamented. His family have THE OUTLOOK'S sympathy in their sad loss.

SPRINGING HOR.—The Olympian Springs management gave a hop Friday night that is pronounced a fine success. Saxton's Orchestra, of Lexington, made the music. It is reported that there were 300 people there, some twenty-five couples from this town attending.

ENTERTAINED.—Frank Tinsley Ramsey entertained fifteen of his little friends last Friday afternoon in honor of his fifth birthday. The home was beautifully decorated with roses. After many childish games were played, refreshments, consisting of ice cream, strawberries and cake were served. The prize in the peanut hunt was won by Lucile Waterman, Wanda Brown winning the "booby" prize. Those present were Fay Olds, Louie Rogers, Wanda Brown, A. T. Hill, son, Cecil Hamilton, Lucile and Marjorie Waterman, Geneva, Marie and Paul Kenestrick, Blanche and Hugh App, Ralph Mutzfeld, Revell Appel and Josephier.—Butler (Ind.) Record.

BIG GAS WELL.—While drilling for water on the Wm. Ratliff farm near Grange City, last week, a strong flow of gas was struck at a depth of 154 feet. Great quantities of gas escaped until a pipe was fitted into the well. They then proceeded to drill a match which ignited the gas shot to a height of about 100 feet and was still burning at last account. A tarpaulin was placed over the pipe and the drilling machine, weighing 1,200 pounds, was placed on that, but the pressure of gas was so strong that the weight was lifted from the pipe. The atmosphere in the vicinity is so strongly impregnated with the fumes of gas that people are afraid to light matches. For this reason at least one family has left the vicinity. The owner of the well has not determined whether he will drill the well to a greater depth or not.

GEORGE ABRAHAM'S DEATH.—George Abraham, one of Crawfordville's oldest and best known citizens, passed away Saturday evening at the family residence on West Pike street. Two years ago Mr. Abraham retired from business on account of failing health, after having been engaged in the harness and carriage business continuously for twenty-seven years. His demise was due to Bright's disease, and while he had been declining for some months he was not taken to his bed until a week ago. Mr. Abraham was born April 7, 1833, at Dillsboro, Ind., and lived there until he was seventeen years of age, when he went to Lawrenceburg and learned the saddler's trade. He went from there to Owingsville, Ky., where he remained until 1876, when he came to Crawfordville.

Mr. Abraham was married in Kentucky October 17, 1859, to Anna Busby, who survives him, together with two sons, John Abraham, of Cincinnati, and Frank Abraham, of this city. Mr. Abraham took deep interest in public affairs and was a good citizen, enjoying the esteem and confidence of the community at large. The funeral took place at the home this afternoon, Rev. Risner officiating. Interment at Oak Hill.—Crawfordsville (Ind.) News Review.

T. Y. NESBITT'S DEATH.—Thomas Young Nesbitt died at his home in Mayville June 21. He had been in such bad health from liver and heart affection that he had been practically confined to his home for two years. The funeral was held Friday, the interment being made in the Mayville Cemetery.

Deceased was the eldest child of James Monroe Nesbitt and wife, who came to this town to reside in 1841. It was while Mrs. Nesbitt was on a visit near Mt. Sterling that Thos. Y. Nesbitt was born April 13, 1843. He was reared in this town and educated at Bath Seminary. In 1865 he accepted a clerkship in the drygoods store of D. D. Duty, who went from Sharpsburg to Mayville about that time. Mr. Nesbitt finally engaged in the drygoods business for himself and succeeded well, continuing until the present time. He was a member of the Mayville Board of Education and was identified with the upbuilding of the city's educational system. He was an elder in the Presbyterian church and also a Knight Templar. In young manhood he married Miss Mary D. Barr, daughter of Hugh Barr, of Flemingsburg. She and two sons survive: Hugh B., a newspaper man of Washington, D. C., and James M., who is employed in the store in Mayville.

Of deceased's father's family there survive: James J. Nesbitt, of Owingsville; Dr. Wm. C. Nesbitt, dentist, and C. W. Nesbitt, attorney, of Mt. Sterling; Mrs. M. Park Davis, of Meadville, Penn.; Edward Nesbitt and Mrs. Samuel Hall, of Mayville.

Thos. Nesbitt was a leading citizen of Mayville, prominent in business and society, and identified with the city's progress. He was a fine business man and succeeded well financially.

Tobacco Growers' Co. Not Dead.—Lexington Observer.—Because our organization has nothing for publication is no reason that the leaders are idle. At the last meeting held here, May 27, a committee was appointed to revise the plan then offered for controlling the coming crop. There were many weak points in the plan, and the committee has been diligently at work since. Every advantage will be taken of the dearth brought experience of the past two years, and the committee propose to keep its own counsel until every detail is completed. Then, and not until then, will any grower have an opportunity to "refuse to sign the contracts, etc."—all this newspaper talk to the contrary. When this contract is ready we believe the growers' threats and intimidations will be of less avail than they were last year, when the Growers' Company controlled nearly 80 per cent. of the tobacco and forced the price up from an average of 5c and 6c to about 10 cents. The growers know this, and we are much mistaken in their capacity for business if they hesitate to sign a contract this year that is certain to win.

We have repeatedly warned the growers against placing any credence in the reports appearing in the daily papers. They are generally inspired by the trust or originators from unfriendly sources. The Observer is your official organ, and all authorized statements appear in its columns. Of course the officers of the company feel grateful for the kindly assistance and support given by a considerable element of the State press, and this is in no wise intended as criticism of these friends. But just now, when the trust is so diligently circulating false and erroneous reports, all statements not coming direct from the officers and through reliable channels should be regarded with suspicion.

JOHN T. KIMBROUGH & SON Recommend PARACAMPH as a Most Reliable First Aid to the Injured.

Many people in this city are injured daily, and sometimes serious results follow simply because the injury was not properly cared for in the beginning. It is not always possible to secure a physician at a moment's notice. Many deaths are caused by negligence and delay. Blood-poisoning often results from bad cuts, cuts, wounds, etc.,
